Executive Team kicks off with Leadership and Organizational Culture ProgramAugust 9

What makes a highly effective team? Highly acclaimed author of 10 best-selling leadership books, Patrick Lencioni, has these to say:

-They are comfortable being vulnerable wit each other about their weaknesses, mistakes, fears and behaviors, completely open with one another without filters;

-They do not hesitate to disagree with, challenge and question one another, all in the spirit of finding answers and making great decisions;

-They do not hesitate to hold one another accountable for adhering to those decisions and standards.

-They ensure that all opinions and ideas are put on the table and considered;

-They set aside individual needs and agendas and focus almost exclusively on what is best for the team;

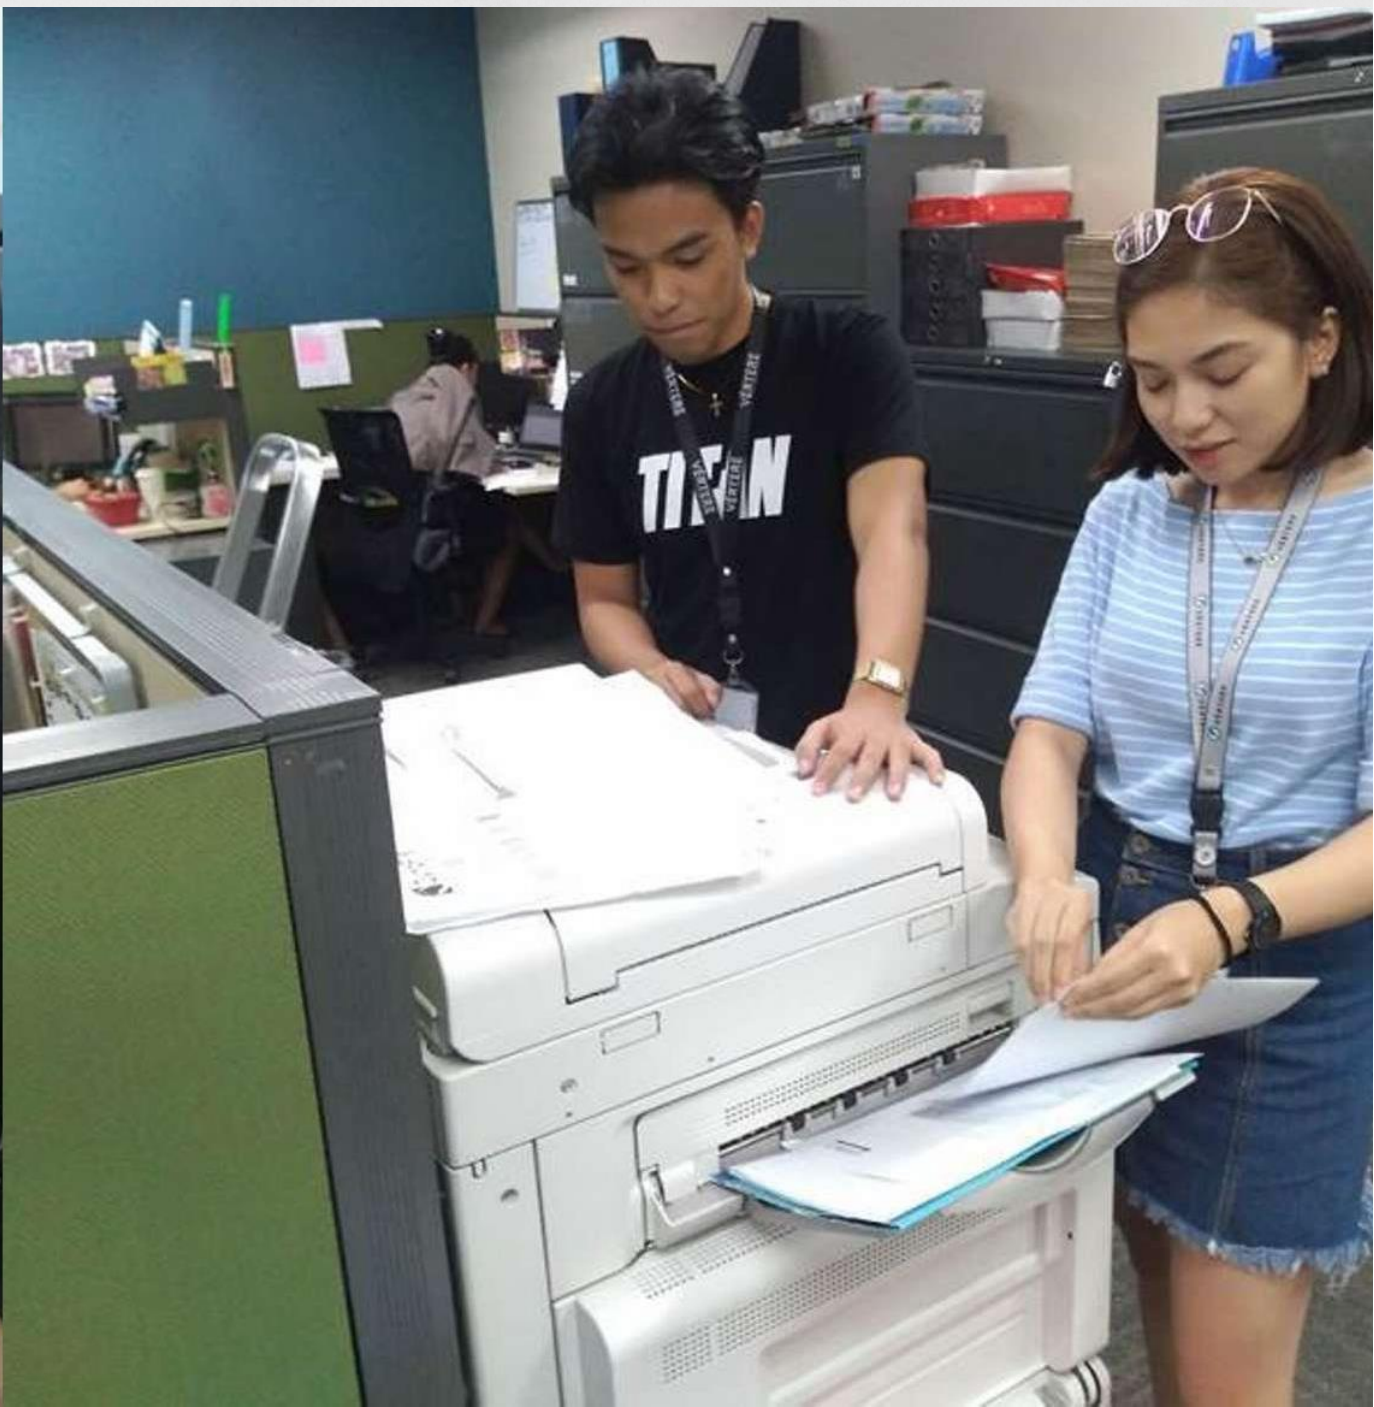

These were the standards which the Executive team measured themselves against as the Company kicked off with the Leadership and Organizational Culture journey last August 9, 2019 at The Grove by Rockwell in Pasig City. Facilitated by Élan Consulting's duo of seasoned OD consultants Karen Borillo and Yen Reyes.

Meant to jumpstart more leadership and culture building programs across the management and support teams of the company, the program is envisioned to align everyone to the core belief that what will ultimately make us successful for the long-term more than a great business is company culture, that is how leaders and team members (the company's people) behave in a certain way based on certain virtues and norms.
